U.S. Ambassador Receives Prince Sultan bin Salman

U.S. Embassy, Riyadh – On March 12, 2015, the U.S. Ambassador to the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia Joseph W. Westphal welcomed at his residence in Riyadh, Quincy House, HRH Prince Sultan bin Salman bin Abdulaziz Al Saud, President of Saudi Commission for Tourism and Antiquities. While at Quincy House, HRH Prince Sultan was able to view “Unity,” the art exhibit at Quincy House. “Unity,” which was held at Quincy House January 15-March 15, features artworks of talented Saudi artists from throughout the Kingdom, and includes samples of their beautiful painting, photography, digital and sculpture artwork. Centered on the theme of Unity, the exhibit highlights the common threads that bind cultures and societies together, and opens the doors to explore the distinguished artistic talent that exists within the Kingdom.

His Highness’ commitment and efforts in promoting Saudi art and Saudi heritage and teaching the world about the Kingdom’s rich history are remarkable. His Highness’ patronage of the King Abdullah Project for Care of Cultural Heritage, Roads of Arabia travelling exhibit and the annual Colors of Saudi Arabia Forum are just a few examples of that.
